

Workshop on collaboration with universities in developing countries

Workshop for AU researchers and employees - How do we coordinate and optimize research with developing countries at Aarhus University?

June 8, 2011, 13.00 – 16.00

Richard Mortensen Stuen, Studenternes Hus

13.00	Welcome
13.05	Building Stronger Universities Initiative A partnership between research and higher education institutions in developing countries and Danish Universities. Rector Lauritz B. Holm-Nielsen
13.15	BSU platforms The “Building Stronger Universities” initiative is structured in four thematic platforms. In the workshop each is presented by an AU platform member. Later in the afternoon it is possible to discuss and network within the different platforms. <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Human Health – Søren Kjærgaard• Growth and Employment – Jørgen B. Jespersen• Climate and Environment - Susanne Amsick• Stability, Democracy and Rights – Jens Seeberg
14.15	ResearchResearch presents Research Africa Research Africa strengthens the African science and technology policy-making, and research community, and connects them with the world scientific community. William Cullerne Bown, Founder and Owner of ResearchResearch.com, Research Fortnight and Research Europe, United Kingdom.
14.45	Coffee break
15.00	Funding possibilities for research projects with and in developing countries A brief overview of possibilities of national, Nordic, European and International funders and programmes concerning research in developing countries. Research Support Office, Jakob Vester and Anya Vinstrup
15.20	Networking possibilities Opportunity to discuss with representatives from the four platforms and with representatives from The Research Support Office.
16.00	The workshop closes